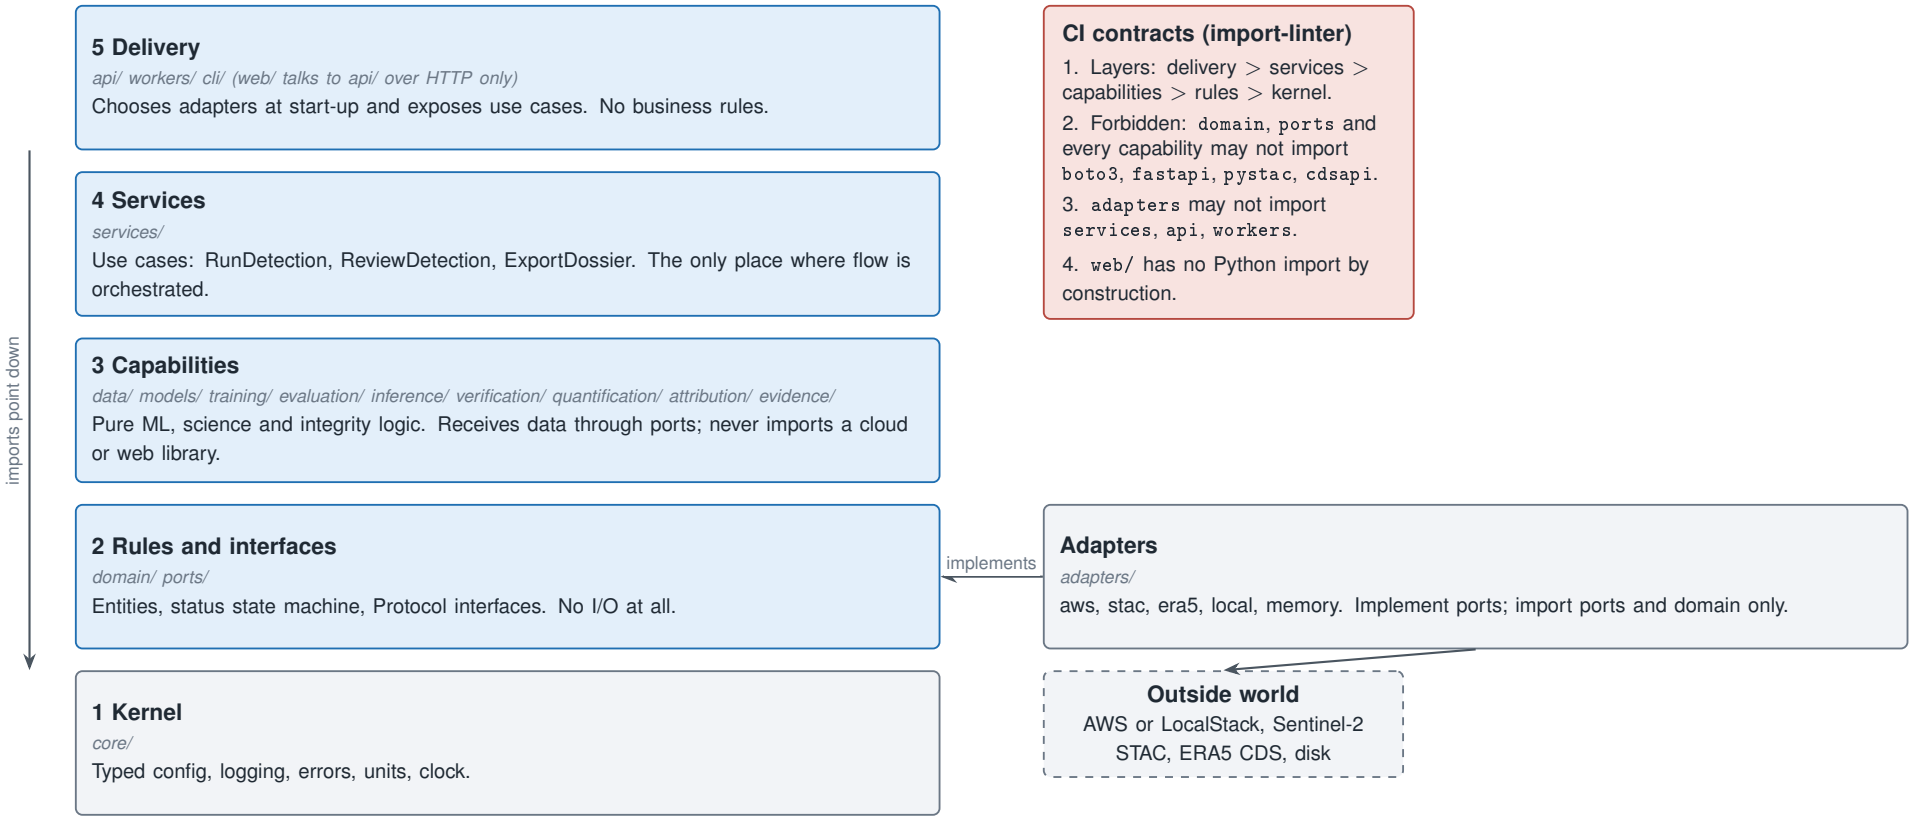
Dependencies point down: the science never imports the cloud

Level 01 - layers. A layer may import only layers below it. Blue is MethaneWatch code, grey is the adapters and the outside world, red is the CI contracts.



Why it matters here: the whole science chain and the model zoo can be tested with no cloud and no GPU, and the API can be built while models are still training. Switching LocalStack to AWS is an environment setting read in the composition root.